The Friends of Long Marine Laboratory 22nd annual Whale of an Auction – Under the Deep Blue Sea!

This illustration is the work of Harbor High School 11th Grade student, Dana Landig. Dana was a 2006 participant in the Seymour Center's K-12 student art contest – Marine Masterpieces.

Whale of an Auction is a benefit for the Seymour Marine Discovery Center

The Friends of Long Marine Lab and the Seymour Marine Discovery Center would like to THANK all of our generous sponsors, donors, and guests for making the 22nd annual Whale of an Auction “a whale of a success”!

Every year, more than 50,000 children and adults from our community and beyond come to the Seymour Center to discover the wonders of the ocean, and learn the importance marine science plays in the understanding and conservation of our seas. Through the generosity of our sponsors and donors, the Seymour Center can continue to inspire the next generation of conservationists, scientists, policy makers, and educators. That's what makes the Whale of an Auction so special!
