Learn about the ocean from the experts. Share your knowledge with the community!

So many ways to engage as a volunteer:

DOCENTS
- Comprehensive 11-week training course each winter
- Lead behind-the-scenes tours; interact with visitors from around the world

EXHIBIT GUIDES
- Training each fall and spring; ages 15+
- Assist the public at the touch pools and in the visitor hall

AQUARISTS
- On-the-job training
- Clean aquarium exhibits, feed animals, and monitor their health and behavior

INTERNSHIPS
- Assist with Visitor Programs or School Programs
- College students can receive school credit

SCHOOL PROGRAMS INSTRUCTORS
- Training offered each fall
- Team teach on-site school programs for K-12 and Community College

FOR MORE INFORMATION VISIT
seymourcenter.ucsc.edu/get-involved/volunteer/

The Seymour Center is dedicated to educating people about the role scientific research plays in the understanding and conservation of the world’s oceans.

LOCATION: End of Delaware Avenue, near Natural Bridges State Beach, Santa Cruz
(831) 459-3800
seymourcenter.ucsc.edu