APPLY NOW to become a SCHOOL PROGRAMS VOLUNTEER or INTERN
at the Seymour Marine Discovery Center at Long Marine Lab!

Make a DIFFERENCE for the ocean and HAVE FUN doing it!

We are seeking enthusiastic individuals (ages 18 and above) who enjoy working with children, and have an interest in learning and teaching about the ocean.

School groups visit the Seymour Center to marvel at marine science and research through hands-on activities and tours at Long Marine Lab. Teams of school volunteers and staff instructors lead structured learning activities and interactive tours. Volunteer training covers marine science topics, marine mammal research, and practice teaching and leading tours at the lab. We provide the tools you need to inspire conservation of our ocean! Bilingual speakers are encouraged to apply.

School Programs Volunteers can apply for INTERNSHIPS. Student interns can enroll for environmental studies internship credit.

APPLY NOW! Applications are due September 10, 2018. Selected candidates are contacted for interviews in August and September to participate in fall training.
